Today we will be making use of an online exercise book to get comfortable with a few Ruby concepts. Treat this session as a lab, where you learn by doing.

Our goal today is to get through as many of these exercises as possible and to have finished up to and including Exercise 34 before next week's session. You will all already be familiar with Learn Ruby The Hard Way as you would have had to do up to Exercise 10 for homework. Let's pick up from Exercise 11!

Programming Challenge

If you finish Exercise 34 and want to give yourself a bit of a challenge applying what you've learnt so far, send your instructor an e-mail and let them know you are ready for the challenge. They will send you a problem that you should try and solve on your own.
